Title of Article: Continuous implicit method for the solution of general second order ordinary differential equations.

Author(s): Adesanya, A. O., Anake, T. A., Oghonyon, G.J.

Outlet: Journal of Nigerian Association of Mathematical Physics, 15, 71-78 (2009)

Abstract: Methods of collocation and interpolation were adopted to generate a continuous implicit scheme for the solution of second order ordinary differential equation. Newton polynomial approximation method was used to generate the unknown parameter in the corrector. This enables us to solve both initial and boundary value problems.